Product description

Solid ABS/PC lids provide strong and reliable protection for electrical enclosures. Manufactured from a blend of ABS (Acrylonitrile Butadiene Styrene) and Polycarbonate (PC), they deliver excellent impact resistance, durability, and a professional grey finish suitable for both indoor and outdoor use.

These lids are widely used in industrial and commercial applications to protect equipment from dust, dirt, and environmental factors. Available from leading brands such as Fibox, they are designed for long-lasting performance and easy installation
