PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Greenlee individual punches and dies are designed for electricians and contractors who need replacement components or specific sizes for knockout punching. Built from hardened steel, they deliver the same clean, precise, burr-free holes as complete Greenlee systems, ensuring long-lasting performance and professional results.

Whether you're replacing worn parts or expanding your knockout toolkit, Greenlee punches and dies are compatible with standard draw studs and accessories, making them a flexible solution for panel work and enclosure modifications.
